

TEACHO Limited

The TWU has established an independent not for profit company to manage contributions from industry for industry training purposes. The company is called TEACHO Limited and information about the company is at www.teacho.com.au.

Contributions to TEACHO in 2010 totalled $54,706 including contributions from the management of Bluecard program.

Contributors included Allied Express and SITA. Toll Group and Skilled have entered agreements to contribute to TEACHO in the future. (See Toll update 22 March, 2011)

Contributions are used to undertake industry projects including:

- Management of the OHS induction program in road transport known as the Bluecard™ system
- Development of a pre-retirement lifestyle planning seminar series for people employed in the transport industry

TEACHO Limited is considering a range of potential projects for development including managing industry qualifications, new learning program for heavy vehicle drivers, a jobs portal, scholarships and an environmental awareness training program.