

IMPORTANT UPDATE: QANTAS COURT SURVEY

From tomorrow, all Qantas/QGS workers who were illegally outsourced will be sent a survey from the Social Research Centre. It is important you complete this survey to indicate whether you would like reinstatement and compensation, or compensation only. The survey results will be anonymous when provided to the court, and will only be used to help the Judge determine whether Qantas should be ordered to offer workers their jobs back. The Judge hopes to provide his decision on reinstatement by the end of 2021 (compensation will be determined at a later date).

The survey will ask you to read some explanatory information prepared by Maurice Blackburn, the lawyers acting on behalf of the TWU – it's important you read this so you are fully informed. The survey is voluntary. All your responses are confidential, protected by privacy law and the data provided to the Court and Maurice Blackburn will be de-identified.
