

CAMERONS LEAVING WORKERS IN THE DARK

Your member-led team met this week with Camerons management in good faith to get information on the sale to DHL. All the company could tell us was that this is "business as usual," and could not provide any information on how workers will be affected.

WHAT CAMERONS SAID

- ▶ The company's position is that nothing is changing, but it cannot commit to anything or give any security
- ▶ Your team asked Camerons management about the potential of a sale the week before it was announced. The company point-blank denied that there would be a sale

Camerons cannot continue to keep workers in the dark. The union will hold both Camerons and DHL to account every step of the way with the interests of workers front and centre of every conversation.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

- ▶ We'll hold yard meetings with members over the coming days
- ▶ We're also requesting further meetings with Camerons, and meetings with DHL
- ▶ We will be keeping members updated every step of the way
