

BANKS NEED TO PAY UP

You may have seen speculation recently in the media about Armaguard's financial situation.

Understandably members have expressed concern to the TWU. In the coming weeks we'll be in touch as much as possible with members, as well as with the company, to ensure the best possible outcomes.

BANKS MUST STEP UP

- We're calling for urgent action from banks to safeguard the industry
- Banks making billions of dollars of profit, who as clients hold the economic power at the top of the supply chain, must stop the relentless squeeze on Armaguard
- The big 4 banks have made $32.5 billion in profits while the cash-in-transit industry is under huge pressure—they must step up

$32.5 BILLION
IN PROFITS

WE'LL CONTINUE TO MEET WITH ARMAGUARD

- Bargains and current discussions with company are ongoing as committed
- Workers must remain at the centre of consultation and must be prioritised

WHAT HAPPENS NOW?

- There's a national delegates' meeting scheduled for Wednesday 3 April
- We'll keep members updated with any changes as they develop

We are in this together and will fight for the best outcomes for members.
