

UPDATE - QANTAS COMPENSATION

Thanks to all affected Qantas workers for your ongoing patience as we work through the complex process of compensation.

WHAT'S HAPPENING NOW

- The Court has now made orders which will enable the Settlement Distribution Scheme to commence.
- Maurice Blackburn, which will administer the fund, must now receive the compensation amount from Qantas within 14 days.
- From then, the process for settlement will commence. We'll provide further updates as soon as we can.
- Further information will be provided regarding the process for workers to have their claims assessed. The claims will be assessed in accordance with the principles set out in Justice Lee's judgment and may be for economic and/or non economic loss

WHERE CAN I GET UPDATES?

Maurice Blackburn has set up a website which will be kept updated as more information becomes available:

HOW WILL I BE CONTACTED?

You may be contacted by email or, if Maurice Blackburn only has a phone number for you, by phone. If they don't have your phone number or an email address, you will be contacted via post.

DO I HAVE TO DO ANYTHING RIGHT NOW?

You don't have to do anything until you're contacted by Maurice Blackburn.

PENALTY HEARINGS TO COME

For over four years TWU members have fought hard to ensure justice for themselves and their families, but also to hold Qantas to account for its actions. Penalty hearings will take place between 19-21 May and the TWU will argue that Qantas should have to pay a substantial penalty for its actions.
