

UPDATE - QANTAS COMPENSATION

We are now ready to progress to the next stage of the compensation process.

WHAT'S HAPPENING NOW

- The settlement funds have now been sent from Qantas
- Maurice Blackburn has now set up an online portal to commence the process for administering compensation to affected Qantas employees
- You should have received information from Maurice Blackburn on how to access this portal to so they can commence the process, including asking you for certain information

BASELINE PAYMENT

- All affected workers will receive a baseline payment of $9,000 after tax, with a further $1,000 to be paid at a later date and after you sign a deed. Some workers will receive additional compensation based on the principles set out in the Federal Court judgment.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

- To assess if you are entitled to amounts over and above the baseline payment, you will need to provide information regarding your economic loss and/or the impact of the outsourcing decision on you. The kinds of documents you need to produce will be explained to you shortly.

WHERE CAN I GET UPDATES?

Maurice Blackburn has set up a website which will be kept updated as more information becomes available:

PENALTY HEARINGS IN PROGRESS

For over four years TWU members have fought hard to ensure justice for themselves and their families, but also to hold Qantas to account for its actions. Penalty hearings are taking place between 19-21 May and the TWU will argue that Qantas should have to pay a substantial penalty for its illegal actions.
