

UPDATE - QANTAS COMPENSATION

ECONOMIC LOSS PORTAL CLOSED

Maurice Blackburn is now assessing economic loss based on the documentation from all workers. As part of the final steps, you will be notified of an economic loss figure.

NON-ECONOMIC LOSS CONTINUES TO BE ASSESSED

Non-economic loss is now being assessed, and where necessary, workers have been attending independent medical experts. Make sure you watch out for emails from Maurice Blackburn. If they ask you for any extra info, please provide it quickly. Finalising the compensation process depends on all affected workers providing relevant documentation.

ECONOMIC AND NON-ECONOMIC LOSS WILL BE PAID TOGETHER

These payments can only be made once all workers' economic and non-economic loss has been calculated and the review process is completed.

These payments will be made in accordance with the principles of Justice Lee's decision. Given the scale and complexity of Qantas' outsourcing it is taking some time to ensure everyone gets their appropriate compensation under the decision.

We do not yet have a date for when these payments will be made and recommend you follow steps from Maurice Blackburn when they are provided..

LOOK OUT FOR UPDATES FROM MAURICE BLACKBURN AND NEXT STEPS

Maurice Blackburn is administering the compensation and may request additional documents from you to properly assess what you are entitled to under Justice Lee's decision.

Make sure to provide this extra documentation as quickly as possible to ensure the compensation process can proceed.
