

TOMORROW'S 24-HOUR STRIKE CONFIRMED

For the second time, FedEx workers have rejected an agreement that failed to deliver on your key claims.

WE'VE GIVEN FEDEX EVERY CHANCE

After the vote, your member-led committee gave FedEx another opportunity to return to negotiation table and address the issues workers rejected the agreement over.

Yesterday – US FedEx once again refused to recommence negotiations or commit to address your outstanding claims.

FEDEX'S MESSAGE WAS CLEAR

No to real wages, no to backpay, and no to job security.

NOW WE TAKE ACTION. THURSDAY'S 24-HOUR STRIKE WILL PROCEED.

24-HOUR STOPPAGE TIME - LOCAL TIME

START: 00:01 (morning) Thurs 10 Sept
FINISH: 24:00 midnight (evening) Thurs 10 Sept

FedEx's US management have left workers no choice but to again take action, the company appallingly deciding it will lock workers out for a further 24 hours on Friday rather than negotiate a fair agreement.

FedEx must get back to the table and show its Australian workforce some respect. You'll be taking action at the same time as thousands of other transport workers fighting to lift standards.
