

NEGOTIATIONS UPDATE: JIM PEARSON MUST DO BETTER!

During our last bargaining meeting on 7 September, some minor progress was made. However, management did not agree to all remaining claims – which we will continue pushing for, including local claims (better weekend loadings and overtime).

JIM PEARSON'S RESPONSE TO YOUR CLAIMS

AGREED: ✓ Consolidation ✓ Full utilisation

CONSIDERING: ? Disaster leave ? Women's advocate program ? Inductions

REJECTED: ✗ 15% super ✗ Stronger consultation rights ✗ Better leave entitlements ✗ Better weekend loadings & payments for overtime

Your bargaining team will keep pushing for these claims at the next meeting.

Employees Brian Mackay and Thomas Bath nominated themselves as independent bargaining representatives and were at the bargaining table. It is unclear who they represent - they are not TWU.

We asked them to present their log of claims. They announced that they were seeking a rollover of the current agreement, with no changes and no pay rises outside of what the company is willing to offer. We rejected those claims outright.
