

MORE K&S WORKERS JOINING THE FIGHT PAPERWORK BAN STARTS NEXT WEEK

Today, the TWU is issuing notice for a paperwork ban across 6 sites at K&S from 15 October to 23 October. This means our members can refuse to complete any paperwork including paperwork on a tablet or device during this time. By refusing to complete paperwork and tablet duties, we will show management we are serious, putting more pressure on them to come back to the table and deliver a fair deal that closes the gap.

MORE WORKERS, MORE PRESSURE

You won't be alone in this fight. More K&S workers are standing together because they know words alone won't win the improvements that they deserve.

MANAGEMENT WILL RESPOND. BE READY

As the action ramps up, expect management to react. You may receive misleading messages designed at questioning the action, suggesting you cannot participate or trying to divide workers from each other.

Stay informed. Talk to your delegate or organiser if you have questions. Don't let confusion or pressure undermine the momentum we have built together.

WHAT TO DO ON OCTOBER 15TH

We need every member to play their part:

- Know your role and be ready.
- Support your workmates.
- Stay united and follow TWU guidance.

We have come too far to back down now.

Members have taken action or are now voting on taking action so they can help lift everyone up together on the same level of pay and working conditions that have already been won elsewhere in the K&S group.

Together, we can force movement at the negotiating table and win the fair deal you all deserve.
