

UPDATE - QANTAS COMPENSATION

COMPENSATION ESTIMATES NOW SENT

As a result of its illegal outsourcing, Qantas was ordered to pay $120 million in compensation and a further $40 million to workers in penalties.

Compensation process - notices of assessments

- The administrator, Maurice Blackburn, has now sent estimated notices of assessment to workers on your economic and non-economic loss amounts
- These are based on principles from Justice Lee's judgment
- Make sure to read documents you receive carefully and take all necessary steps to ensure this final stage of the process moves quickly
- Affected workers can choose to dispute your non-economic loss under only limited circumstances. This must be done within 14 days of receiving your notice of assessment. Please only seek a review if you have grounds consistent with the guidelines sent by the administrator
- Payments will only be made to all affected workers once the review process is complete

Penalties now paid

- $40 million in penalty money has now been distributed based on your years of service, after a hearing by Justice Lee
